

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE DAY IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Best Jockeys Riding Are Now at Benning

Odom, Redfern, McCue, Burns, H. Phillips, W. Hennessy, J. Hennessy, J. Phillips, Rice, McCafferty, and Others to Ride.

There will be no lack of competent riders to pilot the horses at Benning. Probably never in the history of the Washington racing organization have there been so many crack jockeys at a local meeting. Fuller and O'Neill are the only riders of prominence in the East who will not have mounts. Fuller has gone to Memphis, where he will ride Wafel in the Montgomery Handicap, and remain through the meeting here. O'Neill is in New York and Burlew, his employer, will not allow him to ride until the racing around New York begins.

Among Those Present.

Among the jockeys here are Odom, Redfern, McCue, Burns, H. Phillips, W. Hennessy, J. Hennessy, J. Phillips, Rice, McCafferty, Hicks, Henderson, and Walsh. There are many lesser lights who will have occasional mounts. Judge Bryan, who presided at the New Orleans meeting, reports that Hicks is now one of the strongest finishers in the saddle. The colored boy never loses when he is beaten, and can fairly lift a horse to victory in a close contest. Mr.

Bryan cites several instances in which Hicks outfinished Fuller, who is reputed to be the strongest finisher on the turf. McLaughlin String Out.

Many horses were on the track this morning, and a lot of fast work was done. Jimmy McLaughlin had his string out early and sent several of them along at a racing clip.

The two-year-olds in the Columbia Stable were given some smart gallops and the youngsters attracted much attention. Dr. Schwartz, a two-year-old by Arkie, is considered to be the best in the lot, and the stable makes no secret of the belief that he will win at the first asking.

Viperine Will Start.

Wyndham Walden is expected at Benning at almost any hour. He will bring a number of two-year-olds, including the smart filly Viperine, which was the best performer at New Orleans. Viperine will surely start at the meeting, and has been thoroughly conditioned for the race. The colored boy never loses when he is beaten, and can fairly lift a horse to victory in a close contest. Mr.

Timely Gossip of Paddock And Stable at Benning

"Father Bill" sought to outwit the railroads and horsemen at Benning who were waiting and watching for the appearance of his handicap candidate, himself. All morning the watchers waited to see himself brought on the track for his trial, but it was not until 2 o'clock in the afternoon that the Sage of Hartford trotted out the son of Illusion and stripped him for work. The horse looked fit for a hard race, but his trial was not so impressive as the workouts of other horses. Himself reeled off six furlongs in 1:24. Many looked for a better showing than this, and the result will be a larger field in the handicap than would have gone to the post had himself worked sensationally. Tomorrow he may be given a pipe opener today.

Daly's crack two-year-old, Amberjack, will not race at the Benning meeting. "Father Bill" is saving his son of Henry of Navarre for the more important meetings around New York. There is another youngster in the Daly barn that is reported to be almost as good as Amberjack. This colt is named Father D., after the old man himself, and in his work he has not been far behind Amberjack. It is likely that Father D. will be seen in a race soon after the curtain goes up on the spring meeting.

W. P. Burch, who trains the Hitchcock horses, is in no hurry with his charges. The thirteen thoroughbreds comprising the stable have been sent nearly every day for the past fortnight, but Mr. Burch has been going along slowly and it is hardly probable that any of the older horses will start before the Westchester meeting. Grey Friar is undoubtedly the star of the stable, and unless he is sent to the track, the operation will be a failure. He is reported to be almost as good as Amberjack. This colt is named Father D., after the old man himself, and in his work he has not been far behind Amberjack. It is likely that Father D. will be seen in a race soon after the curtain goes up on the spring meeting.

J. W. Colt, the leading steeplechase owner on the turf, was operated on for appendicitis in the New York hospital yesterday. The operation was reported to be successful, and Mr. Colt may be seen at Benning before the spring meeting. Mr. Colt sent word to his trainer, Gwyn Tompkins, that he desired as many of his horses as were fit to take part in the meeting here. Among the jumpers in Mr. Colt's stable is Lavator, the best lepper out last season.

Jockey H. Phillips, the star of the recent New Orleans meeting, will have the leg up on Morning Star in the Benning Spring Handicap. Morning Star is now in the stable of John Pangle, a local trainer, and Pangle thinks the filly has a good chance to win. He purchased the horse a few weeks ago for a Western owner. Morning Star has never done anything but what was expected of her to much consideration, and although she has only 102 pounds to carry, she looks to be entirely outclassed.

Masterman, John Boden's candidate for the handicap, was given his final trial for the race yesterday and worked the six furlongs in 1:24. The task was easily accomplished, and won the chestnut many friends. Coachman will ride the son of Hastings in the race tomorrow. Starter Cassidy will handle the flag during the first week of the meeting, and possibly throughout, although Chris Fitzgerald will be in the country. He will take a hand before the meeting is over. Fitzgerald has not been in Washington since the opening meeting at the old Asaph track a dozen years ago. He acted as an official at that meeting, which was under the jurisdiction of the governing racing organization of the East, but he was not thought of at the time as a starter of horses. Caldwell was the official handler of the flag at all the tracks in the East, and was considered the best in the country. Fitzgerald has many friends in Washington who will be glad to see him return.

Dion Kerr, the popular and capable young gentleman rider, will likely start his mare Leona in the Chevy Chase Hunt Handicap, on Saturday. He had the horse on the road yesterday, and she appeared to be fit. Whether she will prove to be equal to the cross country game is another question, however. It is not probable that Leona will ever be as good a jumper as Mr. Kerr's Joe Letter, who was the best horse in his class at last year's spring meeting. Among local experts Mr. Knut's Twilight is looked upon as the winner of the Hunt Handicap. Twilight has been working splendidly, and is an excellent jumper. He is not as good a comedian as he was last year, when he afforded much amusement by his performance in the Chevy Chase race.

Old Charlie Moore, the hero of several hard-fought races at Benning, is in the stable of William Garth, and has been on the track nearly every day for some time. The old horse is looking well and ought to give a good account of himself if he starts. It is possible that Charlie Moore will be sent over the jumps.

Gum Honey, an old Benning favorite, was given a gallop at top speed this morning, running a mile over the old course. He was accompanied by another from the Colt stable, and at the finish Gum Honey was a very tired horse.

INTERIORS TAKE TWO FROM AGRICULTURALS

A tie for first place still exists in the Departmental League, the Interiors last night emulating Monday's performance by the Bureaus, by winning two games of the set from the Agriculturals. The series in the first game, which was won by the Interiors, was a close one, but could not reach the mark and handily, but their opponents in the next two games, Williams and Rice divided high single honors, each having scores of 214. EAGLES WANT GAMES.

The Eagles, of Georgetown, would like to arrange games with teams averaging seventeen years, for afternoons. The lineup is: H. McKee, W. Lewis, H. Ford, pitchers; C. Kramer, first base; R. Golden, second base; E. Wise, shortstop; G. Schaefer, third base; L. Kraemer, right field; W. White, center field; E. Colbert, left field. Challenges to Charles T. Kramer, Jr., 1073 Thirty-second Street northwest.

INTERIOR BOWLING TEAM.

GARRETT. LEMMON. RICE. BUNN, Captain. COOPER. HOUGH. LIVINGSTON.

The Interiors, who won the championship of the Department League last year, may repeat their performance this year. They are tied with the Bureaus for first position, and each team has only one set, or three games, to play before the close of the season. The teams they meet are of about equal strength at present, and it is a toss-up as to which of the present leaders carries off the bunting.

GANS-BLACKBURN MATCH ON FRIDAY

Both Sides Confident, But Champion Should Have No Trouble.

Interest in the coming match between Joe Gans, the champion lightweight of the world, and Jack Blackburn, who made such a good showing against the champion in a six-round match last November, which is scheduled for Friday night at Germania Maennerchor Hall before the Eureka Athletic and Social Club, in Baltimore, is at fever heat. Blackburn realizes that he will not have a cinch. He has been training for the past week at Merchantsville, N. J. George Cole, a training at the same quarters and the pair of them do all of their work altogether. The fact that Blackburn did not make such a good showing in Baltimore with Bolan is taken by many that the Philadelphia will not have much chance against the champion. Herford says that Blackburn is without doubt one of the best boys in his class, and that although he is confident that Gans will be the victor, he nevertheless feels that the champion will have to do more than the ordinary amount of good work to beat the Philadelphia.

GEORGETOWN PLAYS FARMER BOYS TODAY

Regular Line-Up Has Not Yet Been Settled, and Many Candidates Will Be Tried.

Georgetown meets Maryland Agricultural College this afternoon on Georgetown Field in the opening game of the season.

As yet Manager Carlin has been unable to arrange a game for Saturday to take the place of the one so it is probable that today's game will be the last the Blue and Gray men play before they meet Yale Thursday week. The variety's entire pitching staff, including Drill, Titus, Seltz, Byrnes, Crumley, and Slattery, will be worked against the Farmers while Hart, Shannon, Carroll, and Martell will do the catching. The infield will probably be Dowling, first; McGottigan, second; Doran, short stop, and Capt. Jim Morgan, third. Capt. Sam Apperious will play left field, but the other two positions in the outer garden are still open with Burns, Keane, Simon, Healey, Mowhan, and Quinn the leading aspirants for the places. The game this afternoon will be called at 4 o'clock.

Farley Put on Trial For Ringing Aimless

Defense Claims Western Jockey Club Is Persecuting Trainer—Experts Identify Alleged Sarah Black as Another Horse.

DETROIT, Mich., March 23.—Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Wurzer has finished his opening argument in the trial of Edward E. Farley, the horseman, on the charge of "ringing" the mare Aimless as Sarah Black, at the Grosse Pointe running meeting June 16 last. In his opening statement Attorney Henderson, for the defense, declared that the Western Jockey Club "beaten by Farley at every turn," was behind this prosecution and that the defense would prove that the mare Sarah Black did compete in the race in question and that Aimless was in Cincinnati on the day of the race.

F. W. Campau, president of the Detroit Jockey Club, testified that the $300 purse won by Sarah Black was put up by the club and not the bookmakers. Attorney Henderson asked several more questions intended to bring out and emphasize the gambling feature in connection with the racing, and then argued that the club's operations were illegal, because of the betting in connection with their meeting. "That makes no difference," replied Judge Donovan. "Michigan laws make no difference about the source from which the club gains its revenues."

William B. Maxwell, of St. Louis, a trainer of forty-two years' experience, testified that just after the race in question he saw the mare Aimless standing before the judges' stand unsaddled.

Sarah Black Cost $35. James Coombes, a Louisville trainer, testified that he sold Sarah Black for E. E. Farley in 1902 to Hardy & Ayres for $35. He did not mention the horse's name or pedigree in the bargain, as Farley had instructed him not to do so.

Attorney Henderson, for the defense, tried to show in cross-examination who had brought the witness to Detroit from New Orleans for the trial, but this line of questioning was ruled out by Judge Donovan.

Roche Romanelli, the jockey who rode the mare in the Grosse Pointe race, was the last witness. He testified that he knew nothing about the horse and had never seen her before the day he rode her in the race.

Manager Collins, of the Cardinals, says it is all bosh, this talk about early spring training wearing out a baseball player for the long season. Good for Nichols! Pretty much everybody is getting to realize that this thing of conditioning professional athletes like home-sick school girls is the veriest rot.

John Flood, who made a reputation by staying eight rounds with John L. Sullivan, quit the ring in disgust when Sullivan knocked him out, and went to work. Stricken with hemorrhoids, Floods! Nowadays a defeated fighter goes to talking instead of working.

W. K. Vanderbilt is going to try to drive an automobile a mile in 35 seconds. It certainly is scandalous how fast these millionaires are.

Coach Courtney, of the Cornell crew, hits the right idea when he says the American Henly should be held after the close of the college term. There is already too much complaint about the amount of time students lose from college because of athletics, and in the future all big events, when possible, should be held in the summer recess. The more dates made for the school term the greater will be the outcry on the part of those who are now complaining that the athletic spirit has grown to excess.

Ralph Rose, Michigan's wonderful freshman shotputter, who has broken two world records, will probably be found to have many thorns for the Eastern cracks in the Intercollegiate and St. Louis meets.

"Dummy" Taylor umpired a game at Birmingham the other day and did pretty well. It would not be a bad idea to have

BOWLING TEAMS ARE AGAIN TIED

Interiors Lost Game to the Agriculturals.

THREE GAMES LEFT TO PLAY

Most Exciting Race Ever Seen on Washington Alleys Gets Closer as End Draws Near.

The race between the Interiors and the Bureaus in the Departmental League still continues on the neck and neck order, and the two teams are now tied for first place, with only three games left to play.

Last night the Interiors lost one of their games with the Agriculturals, which loss caused them to be tied with the Bureaus, who also dropped a game in their last set. The Interiors had great hopes of winning three straight last night and so putting themselves one game in the lead, but in the first game the Aggies rolled 334, while the best the Interiors could do was 373.

Soon Hit Their Gait.

After that disastrous experience the Interiors struck their gait and won the other games by comfortable margins.

Their margin in the second game was 21, and in the third it was 62. Gorman did the best individual work last night for the Agriculturals, with 208 in the first game, but after that did nothing startling. Rice and Field followed Gorman with 204 and 201.

For the Interiors, Lemmon was high man, with 213, and Bunn came next with 201.

NOW TOMMY KNOWS.

They were at dinner, Little Tommy, who is of an inquiring turn of mind, had been gazing at his father's rosy countenance for some time. At last he said:

"Papa, what makes your face and nose so drearily red?"

"The east wind, of course," answered Papa, testily. "Do not talk so much, Thomas, and pass me the decanter."

It was then that a voice came from the other end of the table in dulcet tones, saying:

"Tommy, dear, pass your papa 'the east wind,' and be careful not to spill it on the clean cloth."—New York Press.
